SALVATIONISTS.

Commander Booth Will Not Organize a Separate Army.

He and Mrs. Booth Deny That They Refused to Obey Orders.

No Plans for the Future Are Being Made—A Statement Will Be Made Soon as to the Method of Turning Back to the U. S. as to the New Commander.

MOST CLAIR, N. J., Feb. 28.—A reporter of the United Press who called upon Commander Booth at his home here Thursday afternoon, has the commander's authority for saying the following:

1. Commander Booth is not organizing a separate Salvation Army. If the commander and Mrs. Booth had any movement it will probably be one of their own formation, as prominent members have said, they have a large field before them for usefulness.

2. It has been said by the commissioners, at present in command, that they have said, they have a large field before them for usefulness. The commander and Mrs. Booth most emphatically and persistently deny this. They have said as they wrote to the headquarters of the Salvation Army in London that they could not take another command for certain reasons well known to Gen. Booth, and for these reasons would have been willing to have gone anywhere. Moreover, they have not received any orders beyond their present dismissal.

3. They are not making any plans for the future. They are not making any plans for the future. They are not making any plans for the future. They are not making any plans for the future. They are not making any plans for the future.

4. Neither Commander nor Mrs. Booth have, as has been alleged, contacted the committee which was appointed at the mass meeting held at Carnegie hall, in New York, with respect to their future work.

5. It is said that Commander and Mrs. Booth will make a statement on Saturday or Monday in reference to the turning over of the many properties and respective banking accounts of the movement to the new commander.

When asked by the reporter of the United Press what he thought of Brig. Brewer's action in writing against him, the commander simply replied:

"I thought the brigadier's statement was well and unobjectionable, and surprised that the first public statement should have come from Brig. Brewer, for whom I have done so much."

Mrs. Booth, who was brought to the verge of collapse by the severe mental strain of the past week or ten days, the commander said, was now recovered, although not at present able to leave her home. Commander Booth, who was himself much elated by the combined mental worry and a severe cold, is very much better and trusts shortly to be able again.

A NEW RIFLE.

It is the invention of an Iowa man and a case of a new rifle. It is the invention of an Iowa man and a case of a new rifle. It is the invention of an Iowa man and a case of a new rifle. It is the invention of an Iowa man and a case of a new rifle.

The invention has been fully patented. A single straight movement of the hand loads and fires the rifle, which has a capacity of five cartridges at present. It is filled by one movement from a case containing the cartridges. The new contrivance makes reloading of the rifle or changing the cartridges impossible. It is lighter than other rifles and 750 rounds have been fired at one time to test its endurance and faithfulness to service.

WAR WITH SPAIN

On Account of the Resolutions Reported From the Foreign Affairs Committee Not Seriously Regarded at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The possibility of war with Spain as a result of the Cuban revolution reported from the foreign affairs committee Thursday is not seriously regarded by well informed members of the house. It is argued that the resolutions do not in the first place recognize the belligerency of the rebels, but they simply show that a state of war exists there, leaving it to the president to make a belligerent recognition by proclamation when desirable. That a state of war exists there, they say, is manifest both from the reports of American consular officers in the island and from several proclamations of Gen. Weyler, issued since his arrival in Cuba. So far as our right to interfere to protect American property in Cuba is concerned, that right, it is claimed, exists under international usage, and the necessity is still stronger since the revolution has taken a position which virtually stops us from claiming damages under present conditions. It is asserted that no matter how irritating the situation of belligerency might be to the Spanish government, they are in no position to make war with the United States and would not seriously entertain such a proposition. It is pointed out that when Spain and Great Britain recognized the belligerency of the confederates during the war of secession we could not regret it because the energies of the government were taxed to their utmost to suppress our own people. Spain, it is asserted, is less prepared for a foreign war at this time than the United States was 34 years ago.
